INDEX TO ATLAS

To make full use of this Index
it is essential to read the Instructions on pages v–x

All important names that appear on the reference maps are included in this index in a single alphabetical list. Each place name is preceded by the page number of the map on which it appears. Place names are followed by the pronunciation of the name (see the bottom of each page for the pronunciation key); the location; and the approximate geographic co-ordinates by lat. (latitude) and long. (longitude).

Place names in the United States are followed by the state name. All other place name entries show only country locations. When a name is shown only on an inset (abbreviated In. in the index) map, the name of the inset on which it appears is listed.

All minor political divisions are followed by a descriptive term (Dist., Reg., Prov., State, etc.) and by the country in which they are located.

The names of physical features and points of interest shown on the maps are listed in the index. Each entry is followed by a descriptive term (Bay, Hill, Mtn., Is., Plat., etc.) to indicate its nature.

The system of alphabetizing used in the index is the same as that used throughout Encyclopædia Britannica. When more than one name with the same spelling is shown, including both political and physical names, the order of precedence is as follows: (1) place names; (2) political divisions; and (3) physical features.

In most instances the spellings shown on the maps give the local official form. Exceptions are the names of countries wherein anglicized (conventional) forms are used.

Abbreviations of countries, states and political divisions may be identified in the list of abbreviations, pages viii to x of this volume.
